markets. Some polymer applications are growing 25-35% a year in Russia and petrochemical industry flourishes.

Shift to more environmentally friendly materials out of growing environmental consciousness

Although the more environmentally friendly materials are normally more expensive, there is an unconvertible trend to replace environmentally unfriendly materials out of growing environmental consciousness.

Lead-based stabilizers are being replaced with non-heavy metal-based stabilizers. Lower VOCs, lower migration, and lower odour are required.

High growth potential in healthcare

Silicone suppliers find high growth potential in health care and medical device segments. Aging population in the developed regions and emerging medical technologies result in rapid growth of medical devices market. The medical device industry continues to improve its product designs in terms of functionality, patient comfort, ergonomics and styling. The development of silicone materials opens up opportunities for increasing uses of silicone in medical industry.

High market potential in structural silicone glazing (SSG)

Structural glazing was first used in the US in the early sixties, and then spread rapidly around the world. Structural Silicone Glazing (SSG) is one of the most versatile forms of curtain wall construction in the commercial façade business. SSG gives architects and designers the freedom to create dramatic facades. The efforts for aesthetic effect bring high market potential for SSG, and therefore for silicone sealants and adhesives.

Chances in release applications

Release is a function that silicones have provided for many years in mold-making, ... ..
